

Little Bear Labradors

Health and Return Policy

We take many measures and precautions to try to ensure that our puppies leave our home in the best possible health. Adults and puppies will be dewormed and up to date on their shots appropriate for their age. They are given preventative treatments against parasites, worms, fleas and given probiotics to help their digestive systems.

However, even under perfect conditions, a puppy may still develop a health problem. Dogs can't speak to us and we don't have x-ray vision to know exactly what's going on inside them.

Once you leave with your puppy, you have accepted full responsibility for its care and medical needs.

If we know that a puppy is sick, we will NOT let that puppy go home with you.

Genetic Guarantee

Our goal is to raise genetically sound Labradors. But even with all the clearances and genetic tests available, nature can still throw a curve ball at us.

You have one week from the time of pickup to have your puppy examined by a vet of your choice. If your vet finds a genetic problem with your puppy and you have documentation stating the genetic defect, then you can bring the puppy back for a full refund or we can arrange for a puppy from the next available litter.
